Ethical Theories – Simplified Summary

---

1. Ethical Relativism (الأخلاقية النسبية)

- Concept: No universal right or wrong; morality depends on culture or individual beliefs.
- Types:
  - Cultural Relativism: Morality is determined by cultural norms.
    - Example: Arranged marriages are normal in some cultures but not in others.
  - Individual Relativism: Morality depends on personal beliefs.
    - Example: Work-life balance differs between individuals.
- Strength: Promotes tolerance of different cultures.
- Weakness: No clear standard for what "should" be done.
- Example: Alcohol consumption is banned in some countries but allowed in others.

---

2. Teleological Ethical Theories (الغائية – Based on Consequences)

- Focus on the results of actions to determine morality.

- Types:
  (a) Ethical Egoism: People should act in their own self-interest.

  - Example: Paying back a loan to maintain a good relationship, not because of duty.
  - Strength: Supports self-interest while allowing cooperation.
  - Weakness: Ignores responsibilities to others.
- (b) Utilitarianism (المنفعة): The right action maximizes happiness for the greatest number.

  - Example: A manager creates a vacation schedule that satisfies most employees.
  - Strength: Promotes well-being and reduces suffering.
  - Weakness: Hard to predict all consequences; may ignore justice.

---

3. Deontological Ethical Theory (الواجبية – Non-Consequential)

- Focus on the inherent morality of actions, not their consequences.
- Types:
  (a) Kantian Ethics: Actions must follow universal moral rules.
  - Example: Lying is always wrong because if everyone lied, trust would collapse.
  (b) Natural Law Ethics: Morality is based on human nature and universal principles.
  - Example: Murder is always wrong because life should be preserved.
- Strength: Provides clear moral guidelines.
- Weakness: Can be rigid, ignoring practical consequences.

---

4. Virtue Ethics (الأخلاق الفضائلية)

- Focus: Morality depends on personal character, not rules or consequences.
- Core Idea: Being a good person naturally leads to good actions.
- Examples:
  - A courageous person takes necessary risks but avoids reckless behavior.

    - A generous person donates money without expecting rewards.
- Strength: Encourages strong moral character.
- Weakness: No clear rules for resolving dilemmas.

---

5. Common Good Theory (المصلحة العامة)

- Concept: Ethical actions benefit society as a whole.
- Examples:
    - Affordable healthcare for everyone.
    - Environmental protection policies.
- Strength: Ensures fairness and inclusion.
- Weakness: Hard to apply in diverse societies with different values.

- Weakness: Can lead to favoritism or discrimination.
- Example: Employees being paid based on their contributions to a company's success.

---

2. Divine Command Theory (DCT) (نظرية القيادة الإلهية)

- Concept: Morality is based on God's will. An action is right if it aligns with divine law.
- Source: Sacred texts and religious teachings.
- Example: The Quran and Sunnah provide moral guidance for Muslims.
- Strength: Provides an absolute moral standard and equal value to all people.
- Weakness: Interpretation varies among individuals and religions; not applicable to atheists.
- Example: Honesty is morally right because it is commanded by God.

---

3. Rights Theory (نظرية الحقوق الإنسانية العامة)

- Concept: Ethics is based on respecting and protecting individual rights.
- Key Principles:
  - Inherent Rights: Certain rights (e.g., life, freedom) are universal and inalienable.
  - Respect for Autonomy: Individuals should be free to make their own choices.
  - Moral vs. Legal Rights: Some rights are legally protected, while others are ethical but not enforced by law.
- Example: The right to free speech—people should be allowed to express their opinions without censorship.
- Strength: Protects individual freedoms and prevents oppression.

- Weakness: Conflicts arise when different rights clash (e.g., freedom of speech vs. public safety).
